

With all the Back to School Excitement, is your preschool child feeling left out?

If you have a 4 or 5 year old that is feeling a little left out of all the Back to School excitement, Guilford County Master Gardener Volunteers have the perfect opportunity for these curious youngsters.

Master Gardener Volunteers are offering a nature workshop designed for rising kindergartners to encourage interest in plants and gardening. The workshops incorporate creative projects, walks in the garden, and stories to introduce young children to garden ecology and plant science.

This same workshop was offered in May with positive feedback from moms and grand moms. Some of the comments from the adults noted the Discovery Walk was one of the kids favorite activities, the kids talked about the garden for days, and LOVED eating the peas and strawberries fresh from the garden!

Master Gardener Volunteers invite your young explorer to join in the fun and register for one of the two-workshop series. The workshop series consists of one hour on two Friday mornings from 10 to 11 am. The cost is $10 per child and each child must be accompanied by an adult. Due to limited space, reservations are required prior to the beginning of each series.

So Mom, after the “big kids” go back to school, relax in a beautiful garden and spend some quality time with your young explorer.

What: Wee Gardeners: “Discovery Walk” and “Roots, Shoots & Flowers”

Where: Legacy Demonstration Garden at the Guilford County Agriculture Center, 3309 Burlington Road, Greensboro

When: Series I, 10-11am, Sept 12 & 19; Series II, 10-11am, Oct 3 & 10

Cost: $10 per child per series (no cost for adult)

Information: 337-0460 or email weegardeners@gmail.com. Brochures are also available at local garden centers and at the Agriculture Center.